What does this mean --- "Special Thanks?" It means that all these businesses, people and organizations helped us to produce this show in one way or another. We don't usually have room in the program to describe how they help, but this time we do. Black's sells tickets for us. The Granite State News prints our publicity articles and photos. Hunter's IGA and Harvest Market put flyers in grocery bags for us. Lydia's Café staff members wear stickers advertising the show. Meredith Village Savings Bank underwrites our newspaper ads. Mirror Lake Interactive provides services helping us to sell tickets on-line. Mise En Place donated a gift certificate to help us entice people to attend the show. Showcase Consignments of Chichester allowed us to borrow the coffee table for the set. Town and Country Reprographics printed our posters, programs, flyers and tickets. Virgo Design provided the logo we are using for all the publicity. WASR also interviews cast members and gives us air time to promote the show. Peter Pijoan does an interview with some of our cast to be shown on Wolfeboro Community TV. And we can't forget all the businesses that let us put posters in their windows.

Each one of these helpful activities and donations means that we do not have to pay for that service or product or that we pay a reduced price, and that helps to keep ticket prices under control. So the next time you see "Special Thanks" in one of our programs, that's what it means. We are so grateful for this community support.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

When I read this play, I just thought it was so funny that I would love to direct it. I should have looked at it a bit more closely from the director's point of view. "Remember, it's a farce. Take note of all those short lines that must follow immediately, one upon the other. Pay attention to the two sets of dialog going on at the same time and interspersed with one another." These are the things I should have told myself, but didn't. So when I agreed to direct, I didn't really know what I had gotten myself into. Neither did the actors when they agreed to take on these roles.

But thank goodness we were all a bit ignorant, because we chose to do this show and we think the results are going to be lots of fun for you to watch. In asking the cast members to do what needed to be done to make this play work, I almost felt guilty, because I know how hard it is to do. Some of the rehearsals were a real struggle. "Do it again" was a phrase I used often. But they did it, and with very good grace. They not only learned the lines, but also learned to make them zip AND to do all the action required at the same time. I applaud them.

I hope you will too, and that you will also thank all the folks who did not appear on stage, but without whom there would not be a performance. Their names are listed on the next page. They came to rehearsals and struggled along with the rest of us to make this happen. We couldn't do it without them.

And we couldn't do it without you. You are the reason we have performances. So thank you for coming and please enjoy the evening.
